Downingtown, PA: February 9, 2019 - Farrow System is proud to announce a new model in it's slurry blasting line of machines. As the maverick of the vapor blasting technology, Nigel Farrow went into the market for years and listened to the demands and sought to answer those demands. The birth of the Farrow System FLOW® Series is the result of those endeavors.

Farrow's three faceted goal started with incorporating the new patent into the FS1 FLOW®. This creates a more consistent and even result by reducing operator fatigue. Second, was improve accessibility by making the largest mobile slurry blast system. Finally, he wanted to move slurry blasting into new frontiers by making the technology financially attainable to the customers both large and small.
